WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 25.—Enter the diaphanous skirt; exit by bankruptcy the $25,000,000 note of the H. B. Chaffin Co. of New York. Refusal of young woman to burden her parents and other dainty apparel brought ruin to the good corporation.

Department of Commerce revealed today that the reason for his embarrassment was due to its being overstocked with goods and its inability to sell them.

"We are sending Edward on a tour of Europe," his father said. "He will be equipped with a tag and a ticket and we have no apprehensions for his safety. The attaché of the railroad will look after him."

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 25.—Lura Wentworth, the hat girl of Nebraska, attained the unique distinction today of being the first woman to cross the Atlantic with a hat so big it required a steward for itself.

"The Imperial hat"—the big one, of course, of her collection of thirty-seven—was fifty-six inches across, and occupied a box that four stewards bore gingerly down the pier. "There will be no little hats next fall," said Miss Wentworth, "for the big hat is coming back fast."

message, made public here today, Algot Lange, an explorer, after announcing that he had completed his explorations for which he went into the Brazilian jungle in 1912, added that he found the disnounced in his message that he was aboard the steamship Denia, en route to New York.SUGGESTION FOR A NEW TREATY Viewed as Mortifying to the Mikado.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Japan over the California anti-alien land law extending over a period of more than a year was published today simultaneously in Washington and Tokio by agreement of the two governments.

It disclosed that a new treaty was discussed as one way of meeting

Japan's protest against what her diplomatic correspondence characterized throughout as "essentially unfair and inadmissibly discriminatory," "inconsistent with the sentiment of good neighborhood," "inconsistent with the treaty in force," "abridgement of vested rights," and against provisions of the California law "mortifying to the government and the people of Japan."

But as late as June 16, two weeks ago, the Japanese Ambassador, Viscount Chinda, left with Secretary Bryan "instructions" from the Tokio Foreign Office that the projected new treaty would tend to create difficulties.

The Japanese government, therefore, the note said, was "disinclined to continue the negotiations, looking to the conclusion of a convention on the basis of a project which has been under discussion, but they prefer to recur to the correspondence which was interrupted, and they will now look for an answer to the note sent to them on the 26th of August last, hoping that in a renewal of the study of the case a fundamental solution of the question at issue may be found."

END OF JAPANESE NOTE.

The Japanese note of August 26 last, which Mr. Bryan was asked to answer, concluded as follows:

"The imperial government claims for them (its subjects) fair and equal treatment, and is unable either to require in the situation and abominable discrimination complained of, or to grant any relief, in regard to that question as closed so long as the existing state of things is permitted to continue."

BRYAN REPLIES.

Two days ago Secretary Bryan replied to that communication but the note was withheld to day because it could not be included in the correspondence made public today. It was published upon the understanding that Secretary Bryan replied directly to the Japanese government's desire to take up the negotiations again, and there were no supporters and readers of the newspaper of the most widely divergent racial intermixtures.

"The United States, as a melting pot, cannot compare with Europe."

Questioned as to the popular opinion that racial intermixtures tends to reproduce the weak points without the strong points, Prof. Boas said:

"There are 200 million people in the world, and no race is inferior. Humanity fundamentally is very nearly the same, and no matter what their color or race, one man is as good as another mentally and physically, no matter whether he is American, Japanese or half-breed Mexican."

Prof. Franz Boas, who is the author of several well-known books and a presessor of the highest degree of any of the distinguished group of professors now on the campus, was recently in charge of the investigations into the intermixtures of immigrants chiefly in the foreign quarters of New York City, carried out by the United States Senate.

Sunday-Schools.

Scientists Barred from Membership.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Society opposition to foreign missionary work by Dr. William A. Brown, a missionary to the Philippines, tonight is an address to the members of the International Sunday School Association.

We commonly think missions are for the heathen, but not for Americans," said the speaker. "The ground that missions mean primarily for the heathen is, but, on that assumption, there are fewer religious people than Indians who should be brought up in baptism in their peculiar religious ways in richly favored America."

JAPANESE GIFT TIPS.
Rev. H. Kawamura, secretary of the National Sunday-school Association, Japan, sent a telegram of greetings from Count Okuma, minister of Japan's Home Dept., mayor of Tokyo, and K. Nakamura, president of the Christian Association of Tokyo. The 1914 Sunday school conference will be held in Tokyo in 1914, and the Japanese are here getting pointers on the work. The spirit of life was urged upon American workers by Fred R. Soper, New York, who addressed the gift conference.

THE HUMAN SIDE.
You know, I don't think it'd be a bad idea if some of the A.C.A. workers should go out and drink some night and sleep sometime in the alley!" he said. "Mind you, I'm not recommending it, but it might give some of you young fellows a different angle for work."

New Englanders are doing their best in the Sunday-schools.

VERBAL CHURCHES BARRED.
The report of the special committee that the Reformed Church of the Day Saints, the Christian Scientists, and certain other churches eligible to membership in the association was adopted by the association today.

New York was chosen for the convention in 1917, and a committee was launched to bring it to California in 1920.

AT BOSTON.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
BOSTON, June 25.—One of the most contributions received at the Baptist convention yesterday was $14,000 which went to the cause of $10,000 from the same source. The object of the $10,000 sought is to wipe out a sum amount now burdening the Baptist mission.

It was also announced that a woman would give a check of $10,000. Other contributions were: First Church of Boston, $10,000; N. Y. C., $10,000; anonymous, $10,000; from E. J. Crockett of Boston, $10,000.

July 8 and 12 will be set aside for Sunday in all the churches in the convention for the purpose of making collections for the relief fund.

Today's meetings were suspended.

WILKESFIELD MAN'S BOY HUSBAND IS SOMEWHAT OF A SURPRISE

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU
LOS ANGELES TIMES, June 25.—Last evening received from Wilkesfield that Miss Ruth Mary Krantz of Frederick, Maryland, in the Valley, generally known as "Cherry" King of California, recently married to John Evans King on June 11 by the Rev. Mr. Evans, Digger, of the Church, Bakersfield. While the parents of the bride and the marriage are still a secret, it is known that the bride expresses themselves as very surprised at the name of the match as a surprise to the happiness of the couple concerned.

It was only last April that the two first met in Bakersfield, Calif., when the bride was staying with her Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McElroy, extensive oil interests in Bakersfield. King is a son of Cherry King, manager of the Bakersfield Barber Yards.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Elks to Give Dinner-Dance.

Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, B.P.O.E., will give a tango dinner-dance this evening at their clubrooms, Third and Olive streets. A feature of the evening will be the presentation of a gift, in which prominent members of the lodge will participate. "Bunny" Dull and Miss Bernice Siebel will give an exhibition of the latest tango dances. Haste Power.

The Public Utilities Committee of the Municipal League met at a dinner at the Clark Hotel last evening and discussed the subject of whether the city should place the rate-making power for public utilities in the hands of the State Railroad Commission to retain its control. The subject will be one for a series of discussions before the Municipal League.

Sunday-School to Picnic.

The combined Sunday-school classes of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches of the Hillside Park will hold a basket picnic tomorrow on a special train over the Salt Lake at 9 o'clock. The afternoon will be given over to a band concert and athletic sports, winding up with a blackberry pie-eating contest.

Save Self From Fire.

A six-foot automobile that was being cranked by Charles Hansen, No. 2914 Fourth avenue, caused an explosion of gasoline which threw Hansen to the floor and ignited his clothes. He was at the garage. He managed to rush outside, the flaming piece was only slightly burned in extinguishing the blaze of his own clothes. The automobile and garage were practically destroyed.

Reception for Pastor.

A reception will be given Rev. Charles H. Parker, new pastor, and his wife at the Broadway Christian Church tonight. He comes from Wiesbaden, W. Va. The ministers and members of the various Christian churches in the city have been invited to meet him. A musical programme will precede the reception. All the members and friends of the congregation are invited to attend. New England's Fourth.

The New England Society of Southern California, New Englanders, their families, descendants and guests, will have a patriotic celebration and basket picnic at Sycamore Grove, July 4. Entertainment, 10 to 12 o'clock; induction and picnic, 12 o'clock; skeet-shoot, 1 o'clock. Grand music. Coffee will be served at the tables free. Dishes should be taken with the contents of each basket. Permission has been granted by the Park Commission to use the speaker's stand and the north portion of Sycamore Grove for this celebration and basket picnic.

In Sinal Temple.

The last late Friday evening service for the present season will be held tonight in Sinal Temple, corner First and Main streets, at 8 o'clock. The service will be conducted by Rabbi Dr. R. Parker assisted by the cantor, who with the assistance of the choir, will intone the liturgical services. Dr. Parker will speak on "Vacation and Recreation." A special musical programme, inclusive of a solo by one of the members of the choir, has been prepared for the evening. Tomorrow (Saturday) morning the service will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Services during the months of July and August will begin at 8:30 o'clock and continue until 10:30 a.m. The closing exercises of the Religious School will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, at which the annual awarding of prizes will take place.

THEY WIN, FRIEND TREATS.

Prize-Taking Drill Corps of Knights Templars Banqueted to Celebrate Its Success.

Peter Kanellos gave a Greek dinner for the members of the drill corps of Los Angeles Commandery No. 9, Knights Templars, last evening in the banquet-room of the new Wistaria Sweet Shop, No. 641 South Broadway. Mr. Kanellos, who is the owner of the two Wistaria sweet shops, gave the banquet in celebration of the team winning the first prize, and the traveling cup, at the recent contests in San Francisco.

The four-day meeting of the corps present included a number of prominent business and professional men. The guests presented the host with a gold fountain pen decorated with the colors of the team. Mr. Kanellos made a short address, one of which the following is an extract:

You did splendid work in practicing and in going north, and capturing the first prize. This dinner is given to you fully deserved. I recall that when you left I said I would make good on a feast if you brought back first honors. You won and it is a great pleasure for me to keep my word.

HOLDS THIEF WITH EMPTY REVOLVER.

LANDLADY CAPTURES A MAN FOUND IN ROOM WHO ATTEMPTS TO KILL HER.

Heroic to the extent of facing a thief who had knocked her down, Mrs. C. E. Berch held him in a room of her boarding-house on East Fifth street yesterday at the point of an unloaded revolver, until the arrival of the police. She was passing along the hall when she heard a noise from the room of two friends, she called a greeting when she heard a stir.

Receiving no answer to her call, she knocked, and then tried to enter the room, which she found was locked on the inside. While endeavoring to unlock it, the door was suddenly burst open and Roy Evans, one of her roomers, rushed out and knocked her over, striking her violently in the face. His companion assisted her assistant, Mrs. Mary Rogerson, who met with the same treatment at the hands of Evans.

Evans disappeared into his room, which he had secured an empty revolver from the bureau of his apartment. Finding him hiding under the bed, she ordered him to come forward. She then sent for her maid to hunt the police. When they came they found Evans sitting on the bed at the point of the gun, awaiting their arrival.

A small oil lamp was removed by Mrs. Berch who had secured an empty revolver from the bureau of her apartment. Finding him hiding under the bed, she ordered him to come forward. She then sent for her maid to hunt the police. When they came they found Evans sitting on the bed at the point of the gun, awaiting their arrival.

CHAPMAN IS OUT FOR FREDERICKS.

Pullerton Man Leaves the Race for Governor.

Urges Friends to Support Los Angeles Candidate.

Santa Ana Republicans Plan to Indorse Him.

That sentiment within the Republican party is gradually rounding to the support of Capt. John D. Fredericks for Governor is shown by further evidence which came yesterday in the withdrawal from the race of C. C. Chapman, a wealthy orange grower of Fullerton, who urged the friends who have supported him as a candidate to throw their strength to Capt. Fredericks.

Capt. Chapman was brought into the race by a number of Santa Ana Republicans, among whom were members of the Executive Committee of the Lincoln Republican Club of Santa Ana. Walter Eden, president of the club, yesterday received a telegram from Mr. Chapman, in which he says:

"I have decided not to make a contest for nomination for Governor, thus leaving your club to act as it might see fit in endeavoring to nominate Capt. Fredericks or someone else."

"I feel, however, that the general sentiment of our people would be for Capt. Fredericks.

"I want to tell you, and through you, my many friends in Santa Ana, that I appreciate very, very much their loyalty to me in the mention of my name for this high position. I know I have some warm friends in Santa Ana, but I am fully realize that their loyalty is simply superb. I want to say, also, that I have many friends elsewhere who have strongly insisted that I make the race, but I cannot bring myself to do so, in view of believing that under existing circumstances it is the thing for me to do."

"I trust that you will receive this letter in the spirit in which it is written, and that you will extend also to my friends my deep feeling of gratitude for their loyalty."

The Lincoln Republican Club yesterday began to make arrangements for a big meeting at Santa Ana, at which it is hoped to indorse Capt. Fredericks.

CANDIDATES BUSY.

MUSTLING FOR SIGNATURES.

More activity on the part of candidates was shown yesterday than at any other time since June 18, when the first candidates signed up to nominate petitions opened. There was a rush with petitions at the office of Registrar of Voters McAleer, and this rush is expected to grow more and more, exciting until July 16, the closing date.

Registrar McAleer announced yesterday that he is preparing for the big rush at the finish, and in order that no hint of discrimination may be made against him, he will mark a number of signatures on each petition as it comes in. Each petition in its order will then be verified as to signatures and certified to according to law.

A registrar foresees events, he believes that his force will be required to do more than is humanly possible, and he is taking this precaution because if the rush of several hundred signatures comes in at one time in the last few days, it is quite likely a great many of them cannot be handled, and many candidates as a result will not get their names on the ballot. It is the fault of the law which creates this condition.

ROWEY MIFFED.

HIT BY POMONA FROST.

"Chattering Chet," Rowell didn't chitter last night, but he shivered. At Pomona, where for a fortnight it had been advertised that he would speak, the persons including himself, the chairman, J. Albert Dole, and the janitor of the building, appeared. Rowell decided not to speak. Dole dismissed the meeting, and the Pomona audience for United States Senator on the "Progressive" ticket caught the next train back to the city.

Marlin in the day Rowell was one of the speakers at the Realty Board luncheon in the Clark Hotel. Judge Louis Myers, who even for a reference to the Superior bench also spoke. The Realty Board will continue its policy of hearing candidates of all parties, but this does not mean all candidates will be heard, by any means, as the luncheons are held only once a week.

DEMOCRATS MEET.

WOMEN ENTERTAIN THEM.

Half a dozen candidates for office, mostly on the Democratic ticket, were guests at the luncheon of the Women's Democratic League at Christopher's last night. Charles King, Democratic candidate for Governor, made his first appearance before the women, and, in accordance with custom, Fred Willis, one of his opponents, talked through his manager, T. H. Kirk. Thomas F. Griffin, candidate for Senator, told of his record in the Legislature.

Lewis Cruckwick, candidate for District Attorney, worked at his trade of railroad machinist while he studied law at the University of Michigan. He would be fair and impartial. George Williams, candidate for president of the Second District Court of Appeal, and Milton K. Young, candidate for the new Federal judge, spoke briefly. William F. Hanchey, who is a candidate, but for what office has not yet been announced, responded to a toast.

Mrs. A. H. Tyler, president of the League, presided.

JUDGE OSTER DECLINES.

Judge W. F. Oster, senior Superior Judge of San Bernardino county, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election, setting at rest the report that he would make the race to succeed himself. He will retire. His practice and personal estate locate at Los Angeles. His withdrawal from the race leaves four candidates for the bench. Attorney J. W. Curtis, Hon. H. M. Willis, Attorney Halsey W. Allen of Redlands and Judge John L. Campbell.

League Will Meet.

The Republican League of Los Angeles county will hold an important meeting at Eagles Hall, No. 320 South Main street, this evening, according to the call of President Fred J. Spring.

Charles D. Swan, who worked his way from farm hand to bank president, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer. He is president of the Union Savings Bank of Modesto, where he has lived for thirty years. The first time he saw Modesto was one evening when he was "out broke." He slept on a haystack and followed the morning got a job making and mending hats. The money he earned he saved and invested in property. He was elected County Recorder once when Republicans were very scarce and later went into the banking business. The Democrats of Stanislaus county are pledged by their party organ to "go to the bat" for him.

WHAT WALKING DELEGATES WANT.

Paul Scharrenburg, secretary of the Central Labor Council of San Francisco, and others, at Labor Temple last night on a plan to force candidates of all parties in Southern California to submit to a catch-as-fish-named by the unions walking delegation. The plan is that of the proposed eight-hour law, as the socialist element in the labor unions has caused a wide split over the issue.

FIGHT FOR SENATOR.

Thomas F. Griffin of Fresno is in the city on his first tour of the State in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. Griffin is making a hand-to-hand fight with Jim Phelan, upholder of Democratic friend. His opponent is ex-Mayor Phelan of San Francisco, and while the two candidates are far too polite to indulge in personalities, whenever one leaves a community a lot of new names are left to be applied to the other fellow. Democratic friends of Griffin are saying hateful things of Phelan, and vice versa.

O'BRIEN'S CAMPAIGN.

Florence J. O'Brien, "Progressive" candidate for the nomination for Secretary of State, has campaigned in twenty-three counties so far, and still has ten more to go. She has ways to add more to the list. He says the people of California are bitter in their denunciation of Wilson and the whole Democratic administration. O'Brien, a woman, as his first name indicates, was beaten by Fred Jordan for the same office four years ago.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Asst. Dist. Atty. W. J. Ford was chief spokesman for the women's rally meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Los Angeles. He spoke forcefully before a large audience of interested women. Mr. Ford eloquently reviewed the history and progress of the Republican party.

Frank G. O'Connor for Supervisor in the Third District, has challenged all other candidates to meet him in debate, face to face, and let the people look them over.

Justice James R. Pollock, for ten years justice of the peace of Ontario township, San Bernardino county, is seeking re-election.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

TAB ON WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

SEALER SUMMARIZES WORK OF THE DEPARTMENT.

SAYS RECENT ORDINANCE PROVIDES MEANS FOR KEEPING UNDER STRICT SUPERVISION CLASS OF TRADESMEN OF WHOM MUCH COMPLAINT HAS BEEN MADE IN THE PAST.

J. E. Harshman, city sealer of weights and measures, filed with the Mayor yesterday a summary of the work of his department for the fiscal year just closing. Many interesting facts regarding this work are set forth and it is stated that during the year the labors of the department have more than doubled.

Additional duties were imposed upon this official by an act passed by the last Legislature, providing that all scales must be inspected by him before they can be offered for sale. This results in Harshman, in the elimination of hundreds of faulty scales from the market.

An ordinance adopted during the year provides that all fruit, vegetable, meat and fish peddlers must have the scales of their business certified by the sealer of weights and measures twice a year before they can obtain their licenses.

This will aid materially in keeping under strict supervision a class of business which we have had many well-merited complaints, and which in the past have been practically free from any regulation whatever," says Harshman.

During the year, 226 warnings have been issued in the Police Court, resulting in seventy-two verdicts of guilty, one not guilty, and three dismissed for lack of evidence. Five cases are now pending.

THE RECEIPTS OF THE OFFICE TO OCTOBER 31, 1913, WERE $1592.40, AS AGAINST $1142.70 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1912, A GAIN OF MORE THAN 25 PER CENT. THE FEES COLLECTED BY THE DEPARTMENT FOR THE FISCAL YEAR AMOUNTED TO $1582.65.

The total number of receipts and measures inspected during the year was 17,500. Of these there were 1,522 sealed, 422 tagged, $175 condemned.

In concluding his report the city sealer says:

"It gratifies me to be able to report that notwithstanding the strict regulation of the laws during the past year, the cutting down of the allowable error, or tolerance, on packago goods to, in many cases, one-quarter the amount formerly allowed, the concentration of thousands of business houses in certain sections and the strict regulations issued by this department for the requirements of the public is being observed.

It would seem from the increased number of calls being received by this department that the general public is becoming more and more aware of the purpose of this department and that we are ever ready to investigate any complaints that may have to make, and that if upon investigation we find that to be the fact we can and will compel the delivery of honest weight and honest measure.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

The Electric Laundry Company filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court of Los Angeles. The debts of the concern are scheduled at $15,942.08, of which $14,632.91 is unsecured. The assets are estimated to be $16,192.75, of which $16,142 machines and $3921.50 due on account. The petition states that the action is taken on account of the threats of certain creditors to bring action against the petitioners unless their bills are settled within twenty-four hours.

LEAGUE WILL MEET.

The Republican League of Los Angeles county will hold an important meeting at Eagles Hall, No. 320 South Main street, this evening, according to the call of President Fred J. Spring.

LACE Your Trusts With the SECURITY

The SECURITY can be your guardian if you are under age — your agent or trustee when you are grown — a valuable friend while you live, and your Executor, Administrator or Trustee under Will when you die.

As long as there are any funds or property in the trust, it never resigns. No individual can equal the efficiency of the SECURITY in the handling of trust matters.

The SECURITY has life everlasting, and is always well and at home;

— has no partiality, and is subject to no outside influences;

— keeps a complete record of what it does, and must make only reasonable charges as fixed by law;

— and has the learning, experience and discretion not only of one man, but of a number of the most successful men in the community.

The SECURITY has ample capital and surplus — with a special deposit of $400,000.00 with the State Treasurer to insure faithful execution of trusts. Consultation with our trust officers carries with it no obligation.

Revelations.

DEFENSE MAKES STRONG POINT.

Mrs. Budd Admits Wiring Wheaton of Raid.

He Says He Knew Flash Was to Be Taken.

Add to Be Evidence of Exortion Plot.

The defense in the Mrs. Budd-Mrs. Morgan "lost love" suit and scandal scored a victory yesterday in Judge Morrison's court when Mrs. Budd, wife of the "pink pajama" admitted that she had telephoned Mayor Wheaton shortly after the raid and famous flashlight pictures taking that "everything went as planned and flash secured."

She further testified that she was constant communication with Mr. Wheaton for nearly a week before the raid. Attorney for Mrs. Morgan had attempted to get valuable admissions from Mrs. Budd for a day, but it was not until the last minute before she left the courtroom that she "lost love" sending the defense a telegram.

The defense holds this to be evidence of an extortion plot in which Mr. Budd was the central figure. Mr. Wheaton was the chief attorney for the defense and Mr. Wheaton had previous knowledge that flashlight pictures were to be taken of Mrs. Morgan and held in compromising positions.

Mrs. Morgan had decided upon the date of the raid on her mine that Mrs. Budd, Mr. Wheaton and six others attempted to blackmail her late husband's will. She asserted that the Budds had been in agreement over the will and he had torn it up in her bed instant before a raiding party, headed by Mrs. Budd, rushed in, and a flashlight of his hands were taken. She will be deposed again today.

Mr. Budd, a Wheeler supporter, a revolver to her head while this man made ready for the photograph which is the premier exhibit. Mr. Budd at first denied that he had agreed to pay $5,000 to Dist. Atty. Goodell of San Bernardino. His alleged statements conflict with his present testimony and were to have been made under questioning he did not deny during investigations of the disappearance of diamonds worth $5,000 from bedroom of Mrs. Morgan when Mr. Budd and others burst in.

Mr. Budd's records made by Budd to Mr. Goodell in December, 1913, were read to Mrs. Budd by Lawyer Dudley Robinson for Mrs. Morgan.

She fully admitted that she made the statements to Mr. Goodell while under great mental strain.

She declared she had been in the Los Angeles County Jail when she signed her will and was in a condition to do so.

The names of Mr. Morgan's heirs, mentioned in his will.

Why were they taken to the jail?

I took them to ask her if she would let me send the flashlight pictures to these people.

My attorney, Wheaton, told me what would be accomplished by the list."

What had they to do with your husband?

Mr. Wheaton also says that no person could make Mrs. Morgan answer."

So I don't think so."

What was the purpose of reading the list?

Mr. Wheaton told me it would let Mrs. Morgan know we were looking for our affairs."

MEMORY FAILS HER.

Numerous other extracts from the record were read by Mr. Robinson. In all questions Mrs. Budd made it clear that she could not remember.

Morton for Mrs. Budd stated that Mrs. Budd if Mrs. Morgan had nothing to do with $20,000.

He didn't do anything of the kind," Robinson shouted.

According to his facts, he can prove it," said Mr. Morton.

"It is up to my attorney," replied Mr. Morton.

Mr. Morrison here admonished attorneys to address their remarks to the court and not to you ever consider suing for damages," said Mr. Robinson.

He did not answer this in full, however, she stated she did not know who would sue for damages.

"It is up to my attorney,"

Miss Wobig, wife of William Wobig, of the alleged conspirators, told the court on the witness stand today that she had lost access to the mine when Mrs. Morgan had put her arm around her.

"I never saw him kiss her," she said. "I told my mother that I was going to tell Mrs. Morgan about it."

"You?"

"Yes."

THIN-SKINNED.
President Wilson got mad and quit the game when somebody swore at him on the Washington golf links. Wonder if he ever trumped his partner's trick in a hand of whist?

THE WAY TO MANAGE.
The government will allow homesteaders who get married to keep both properties by living on only one. It would be safer to contract an engagement before undertaking to homestead. One would then be sure of his neighbor.

LAMP CHIMNEYS.
Little boys and girls used to be sent in a hurry to the store just before dark to get a new lamp chimney for the supper table. Sometimes the last duty at daylight was to polish the lamps and the chimneys. How funny that would seem now. How strange a hundred details of living twenty years ago would seem today!

MY STARS!
That is a very beautiful swear word. It is too bad so many of us say it without thinking what it means. You see, they really are your stars. You can walk out every night and view your countless possessions. It is so good that we may all own the most beautiful things that life provides and pay nothing for them except love and understanding.

INDISCREET.
A New York lady is suing a millionaire for breach of promise and says that she has letters galore from him which bring over with affection. If he were of the letter-writing kind he probably deserves all he gets, and the jury will see that he gets it. Somehow a woman can write anything on earth to a man and it looks all right, but when a man begins to write that way to a woman it is all wrong. The difference is in the judgment of the writer. The woman picks the right one to write to and the man doesn't.

CIGARETTES.
The other fellow's vice is always deplorable. The cigarette is the butt of everybody's joke except the man who uses it. On the stage, when a man has no speaking part in a white-lieutenant play, he lights a cigarette and by this you recognize that he is not good. One time a boy in this city was arrested for a very grave offense. After his people got him out of the trouble his mother said to his father: "John, I want you to give Willie a good talking to tonight. The next thing we know he will be smoking cigarettes."

REDEMS HIMSELF.

A few years ago the world sat up and took notice when John Luther Long wrote his stirring yet lovely story of "Madam Butterfly" in which our navy was put to shame by Lieut. Pinkerton's faithlessness to his beautiful Japanese lover. "Her Dear Barbarian" is a new story by the same author in which an American behaves himself like a gentleman and really treasures the wife he wins. Incidentally, the charming little story gives much insight into Japanese customs. It isn't a big thing like "Madam Butterfly," but is radiant in quality.

A POSSIBILITY.
The outcome of a discussion depends on the treatment. Brieux did not succeed in writing an interesting drama about specific blood poisoning, but Rudyard Kipling wrote a gripping, breath-taking short story on this subject which might be turned into a great drama. He called it "Love o' Wom'en," a nickname for the handsome man of iron and fire who goes to the devil in it. Nobody objects to the serious treatment of any subject that deserves public consideration, but the people have a right to expect artistic treatment. It is not the fault of brilliant actors that they are not always provided with acceptable vehicles.

FEDERAL STREET-CAR LINES.

Congressman Crosser of Ohio has introduced a bill for the United States to condemn 100 miles of street railroad in the city of Washington, pay the trolley companies fifty millions of dollars therefor and run the cars on a 3-cent fare basis. It is not claimed that the government would improve the present service or make a dollar by seizing the roads, but it is asserted that the operation of the trolleys by the United States would be valuable as an object lesson.

The next progressive movement will be Federal popcorn and peanut stands, soda-water fountains and grape-juice bars under the Interstate commerce law.

T HIS VIEW.

If you live in a house on a hilltop you know very well that from one room you can see a big stretch of the world, while from another you can see nothing except the street. Sometimes one flight of stairs makes all the difference in the view. Sometimes one mental step would make the same difference in one's outlook on life. There are hilltops within five minutes of the heart of Los Angeles from which one can look across stretches of brilliant miles by day and across meadows of twinkling lights by night. It would take a car ride of fifty minutes to get the same view from the other side, looking back cityward. It might be that way about the long view. Fifty minutes' ride every time one wants a sweep of vision is much to pay if you can get it in five minutes or in three.

THE TREND TOWARD A SINGLE WORLD GOVERNMENT.

On the 18th inst. The Times published the following Associated Press dispatch:

ONE INTERNATIONAL NAVY.

BOSTON, June 17.—One navy for the eight leading nations of the world is the aim of a plan drawn up for the World Peace Foundation to be sent to Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

The nations include Germany, the United States, Japan, Italy, Austria, France, Great Britain and Russia, which possess naval armaments costing $4,000,000,000. The plan proposes a joint convention of these nations to reduce their armaments, which may be used jointly if any one of the nations is attacked.

The project advanced was obviously not original with the person or persons who drew it up for the World Peace Foundation and forwarded it to the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Navy, as stated.

The plan or suggestion, if carried to its logical end, means far more than is set out in this brief mention of it. The Times now expands some editorial remarks heretofore made on this subject of transcendent importance.

The limited project here suggested seems to us entirely inadequate—as little more than a rope of sand.

A united navy supplied by the great powers named—the United States, Japan, Italy, Austria, France, Great Britain, Germany and Russia—would mean, to all intents and purposes, a movement in the direction of a World Navy, because the list would include big war vessels enough to make a World Navy in numbers and strength. A World Navy would be logically and almost certainly followed by a World Army of corresponding strength, including the same nations, or some of them, with perhaps others possessing smaller armies—all to be assembled, through the initiative and by the consent of the nations involved, each militant branch under a single commander, and to be moved, whenever necessary, to achieve and maintain the peace of the world through a common impulse, under a united agreement first reached by a Parliament of the Nations.

The project, so briefly outlined in the minor Associated Press dispatch here quoted, is at best only a suggestion; it does not reach to a plan or a project even half perfected. As it stands, it is neither logical nor complete, and merely suggests what would naturally and inevitably follow, viz., a universal and complete government, both civil and military, adequate to the requirements of the entire globe. The little that has been given to the public thus far suggests that the persons (unnamed) who have brought forward this partial plan intend to go about the vast enterprise of projecting a World Government by piecemeal, if indeed they have the great scheme in mind at all.

A World Navy and a World Army would necessarily mean a World Government for the creation, assembling, support, management and control of these combined militant forces.

A World Government, in order to be practical, complete, comprehensive, effective and lasting, would need to be invested with all and every attribute of a single, united, consolidated, supreme governing body, adequate to the overwhelming requirements of the world in all large and essential particulars. It would necessarily consist of the component and harmonious branches of a government of the people, for the people and by the people of the different nations of the earth—all of them, great and small, if possible.

All these things are possible, and half a dozen of the greater nations of the world can set in motion and establish permanently this Plan for Ending Wars—this Project of Universal Peace.

This is a mere skeleton of a peace plan other than the one mentioned in the dispatch quoted—a plan better expressed, more luminous and comprehensive, more elaborate, practical and solid, and which is now undergoing high consideration, having been drawn with the supreme object in view—Universal Peace.

Under the proposed plan those appalling and tragic events shocking the entire civilized world, which occurred in the Balkan Peninsula, and a repetition of which in even now threatened, would have been rendered impossible; and unfortunate Mexico would not now be in the sad plight wherein she finds herself today.

God and man speed the day when this mighty project shall be a fact accomplished.

INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD.

The brotherhood of the world is receiving a little setback in the Balkans. The era of international and cosmopolitan communities, from which so much is hoped, was getting along very nicely and the peace party had begun to rub its hands and talk of the absurdity of national wars when the baneful question of race and patriotism had been merged and weakened by international emigration.

The World Army could be made up by very moderate drafts upon the army of each nation having membership in the alliance; and the World Navy could be composed of warships drawn from the navies of the several maritime powers in the alliance, each supplying its just and proportionate quota, according to strength, population and wealth.

Thus would the present armies and navies of the several nations be reduced, without resorting to the process of disarmament, which is obviously impossible at the present stage of civilization; and, besides being impossible, it is clearly inadvisable, because men and nations have still uniformly, to be protected against the aggressions of each other, not only by legalistic intervention and other peaceful means, but by the force of arms likewise. Lawless men and nations cannot yet be taken loose upon their neighbors.

It would be entirely possible to make up the entire Universal Army and Navy required for the defense and protection of the world, and of the several nations in the alliance, without crippling the army or navy of any single nation, for the very good reason that the Universal Army and the Universal Navy would neither of them have to be formidable in strength or in the numbers of their soldiers and sailors, which need not be enlisted de novo, but could be requisitioned from the several nations composing the alliance, with the consent of each national government, so as thus to constitute complete and invincible fighting bodies, if fighting were ever to be called upon at their hands by the Universal Government under which they would serve.

It would be entirely feasible for the suggested World Government to make ample, adequate and dependable provision for the complete protection in these particulars of each and every nation in the proposed al-

A Tickler.

WILSON'S WAR ON BUSINESS.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

When President Wilson said, early in the first year of his administration, something to the effect that he would "hang higher than Haman" men who might attempt to bring about business depression, he must have had in mind that he would charge to other causes than the policies of his administration any adverse conditions that might develop.

He is adhering to that determination. He has been compelled to admit that there is business depression, and he is refraining from threats to hang anyone for having caused it; but he insists upon shifting the blame. He says the depression is "psychological;" that is, due to the state of mind of those who are suffering from it.

That the state of mind is directly caused by the policies of his administration he ignores. That his administration is under obligation for the psychological condition does not occur to him.

He replies to business men who are endeavoring to impress upon him his understanding that they, too, have rights, that business needs rest, that he ought to make good his assurance that hostility between government and business was at an end, is that he will insist upon forcing through the Senate the pending anti-trust (anti-business, really) legislation by all means at his command. In short, the war upon business (Wilson's war) shall be relentless.

Perhaps he believes that thus he demonstrates strength of character, whereas he is manifesting only stubborn adherence to the false idea which he has caught from Bryan that wealth and power and possession of something is of a crime, that business needs rest, that he ought to make good his assurance that hostility between government and business was at an end, is that he will insist upon forcing through the Senate the pending anti-trust (anti-business, really) legislation by all means at his command.

He advances the specious argument that it would be less harmful to business to enact further legislation against it at once than to leave it alone. Taking that view, he neglects altogether to take into consideration the well-supported contention that further legislation is not required for the public good, that the Sherman law is adequate for reasonable regulation of business.

And he lets it be known that his wrath is boiling because men engaged in business are making appeals to Congress for cessation of unreasonable legislative restraint of trade.

He is Indianian, because business concerns have been sending out copies of a letter of appeal for reasonable treatment, with the suggestion that they be sent to Washington. He seems to desire to convey the intimation that such activities of business men, for the sake of business, are reprehensible in the highest degree; that they are to be classed with "lobbying."

Surely no recipient of a copy of the suggested letter would do it if it did not strengthen his arguments. But he will not send it to who would not otherwise write, for the very good reason that there are many who cannot readily transfer their thoughts to paper.

It is a common practice to circulate copies of a letter or petition designed to impress upon a legislative body a trend of public sentiment.

All possible means were employed, and surely successfully, owing to the weakness of our Washington legislators, to force into the Clayton bill the exemptions demanded by tricky Gompers and some other labor leaders of the same vicious type, but that has not stopped the administration.

And last but not least of all, there would be a World Harbor or harbors—adequate ports of entry, amply guarded and protected by the World Navy.

All these things are possible, and half a dozen of the greater nations of the world can set in motion and establish permanently this Plan for Ending Wars—this Project of Universal Peace.

This is a mere skeleton of a peace plan other than the one mentioned in the dispatch quoted—a plan better expressed, more luminous and comprehensive, more elaborate, practical and solid, and which is now undergoing high consideration, having been drawn with the supreme object in view—Universal Peace.

Under the proposed plan those appalling and tragic events shocking the entire civilized world, which occurred in the Balkan Peninsula, and a repetition of which in even now threatened, would have been rendered impossible; and unfortunate Mexico would not now be in the sad plight wherein she finds herself today.

The brotherhood of the world is receiving a little setback in the Balkans. The World Army could be made up by very moderate drafts upon the army of each nation having membership in the alliance; and the World Navy could be composed of warships drawn from the navies of the several maritime powers in the alliance, each supplying its just and proportionate quota, according to strength, population and wealth.

Thus would the present armies and navies of the several nations be reduced, without resorting to the process of disarmament, which is obviously impossible at the present stage of civilization; and, besides being impossible, it is clearly inadvisable, because men and nations have still uniformly, to be protected against the aggressions of each other, not only by legalistic intervention and other peaceful means, but by the force of arms likewise. Lawless men and nations cannot yet be taken loose upon their neighbors.

It would be entirely possible to make up the entire Universal Army and Navy required for the defense and protection of the world, and of the several nations in the alliance, without crippling the army or navy of any single nation, for the very good reason that the Universal Army and the Universal Navy would neither of them have to be formidable in strength or in the numbers of their soldiers and sailors, which need not be enlisted de novo, but could be requisitioned from the several nations composing the alliance, with the consent of each national government, so as thus to constitute complete and invincible fighting bodies, if fighting were ever to be called upon at their hands by the Universal Government under which they would serve.

The broad and bold suggestion here advanced does not point, by any means, to the result or results which will doubtless be predicted in the very outset by doubting Thomases whose limited vision is incapable of taking in, at first, the lofty ideas and inspiration which are involved in the sentiment:

"No pent-up Utica contracts your powers, But the whole boundless continent is yours."

Above all, it does not mean that any nation existing upon earth today shall necessarily have its nationality taken away by the proposed World Government, its territorial limitations narrowed, its autonomy violated, or its rights, powers and dignities as a sovereign among the nations of the world disturbed or trenched upon in any injurious way.

The plan would involve scrupulous non-interference by the alliance or World Government in the internal affairs, both civil and military, of every member of the pact, save in the single event of an internal rebellion too formidable to be suppressed by the government de jure of the disturbed country—so threatening as to jeopardize the peace and the people of adjacent national territory.

It would be entirely feasible for the suggested World Government to make ample, adequate and dependable provision for the complete protection in these particulars of each and every nation in the proposed al-

Life's Gentler Side—Society, Music, Song and the Dance—The Theaters

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

FORTY guests will motor out to the Los Angeles Country Club tomorrow in response to invitations issued by Mrs. Cleo Harrison of West Twenty-eighth street, who will entertain with an elaborate bridge luncheon. Mrs. Nicholas McCarty Harrison of Indianapolis, who is visiting Mrs. Harrison en route to Coronado, will be present as a special guest. Pink sweet peas and maidenhair are the attractive decorations to be used on the tables where pink cards will be given to the ladies. Miss Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Phillips, of No. 1061 West Thirty-sixth street, Mrs. Patton and children will remain for the summer.

At Ocean Park.

Mrs. A. E. Armstrong and daughter Miss Marjorie and Mrs. Howard Leggett, with the latter's son, Leighton, formerly of this city, now of Fowler, Cal., are sojourning at their cottage, No. 84 Paloma avenue, Ocean Park.

Engagement Made Known.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kraus of No. 2009 South Burlington avenue announced the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Lillian, to Ernest Albert Sherwood, a prominent young business man of this city. The wedding will be an event of the early fall.

Returns With Home Guest.

Miss Katherine Barbour of West Twenty-eighth street returned on Wednesday from an enjoyable outing with Miss Anne Elizabeth Crowder of Piedmont whom she had not seen since her days at the country club. The young women were enjoying life on the large Crowder ranch, north of San Francisco, where horseback riding and other out-of-door sports were indulged in. Crowder and his wife, Miss Barbour's guest, and the weeks during her sojourn will be filled with merry parties.

Bride-elect Complimented.

Miss Elliott Anderson, who will wed Charles Elliott Anderson tomorrow, has been the recipient of much attention since the announcement of her engagement. A Kensington party was planned by Mrs. L. E. Darrow at the home of Mrs. E. A. Avard. Guests included were Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. John R. Lowe, Mrs. C. J. John Leachman, Miss Francis Nath, Miss Frances Gordon, Miss Emily Height, Miss Emily Anderson and Miss Lois Caskey. The trailing nasturtium embellished the home.

Another affair for Miss Lowe was given by Mrs. John Morrissey at her home, No. 543 Alameda street, the guests hemming roses for the honor. Vari-colored sweet peas enlivened the rooms given over to the afternoon, and gowns included Mrs. Morrissey, Mrs. L. E. Darrow, Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Frank Rush, Mrs. H. C. Wright, Mrs. Charles Temple, Miss Leona Ledwick, Miss Valine Lachman, Miss Pauline, Miss Clara Barron, Miss Grace McCoy, Miss Vera Brook, Miss Grace, Miss Leah Phillips, Miss Francis McComb, Miss Amy Gordon, Miss Frances Gordon and Miss Lois Caskey.

Following the custom of the Alpha Sorority, giving an oyster supper before their marriage, to the girls attending school at Occidental on Friday they did. Miss Lowe entertained with her parents at her home, Alameda Terrace, Thursday afternoon. Green corsages adorned the rooms and cupid post cards were carried out in the decorations, appointments and refreshments.

Whose engagement to Ernest Albert Sherwood is made known today.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Johnson, Mrs. Elmer Richardson, Mrs. Ralph Cole, Mrs. Frank N. Rice, Mrs. Roy Van Alstine, Miss Mary Gillett, Miss Lillie Johnson, Mrs. Katharine Moore, Mrs. Rowe Royal, Miss Clara Bartholomew, Miss Eloise Bartlett, Miss Vera Brooks, Miss Boss Buck, Miss May Darling, Miss Leah Phillips, Miss Francis McComb, Miss Amy Gordon, Miss Frances Gordon and Miss Lois Caskey.

In a recital at the Huntley apartments this evening, assisted by Miss Maude Gilbert.

Dauchene Concert.

Saturday afternoon, at 3 p.m. Prof. Dauchene will present at his concert hall, 1000 Wilshire boulevard, a program of "Hansel and Gretel," "The Moonlight," by three graceful girls, Florence E. Lyle, Alice P. Glasscock and Selma Zahl, accompanied by Hans Dauchene, Dorothy Keeler, and J. Shoemaker, on violin, cello and piano. Most delightful also were the selections from "Hansel and Gretel," "The Moonlight," and "The Snow Maiden," and other numbers by the senior A chorus. But when the big organ, under the hand of Miss Mary E. Hayes, accompanied by the orchestra, sounded forth the "Hansel and Gretel" theme, the hundred of fresh young voices joined in the inspiring song, and onlookers felt indeed that youth was having its hour.

Philbrick Piano Recital.

JONES RECITAL AT MOROSCO HALL.

PIANIST MELICENT VIRDEN RETURNS FROM ABROAD.

Fred Johnson, Young Bartone of Promising Future, Makes First Public Appearance—Unusual Number of Mezzo-Soprano With Good Vocal Quality and Interpretation.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

A bevy of mezzo-sopranos, attractive and clever, constituted the main attraction of the recital given by G. Haydn Jones at Morosco Hall, Jefferson Theater, last evening.

Melicent Virden, a young pianist, who recently returned from a two-year stay in Europe, assisted, and her appearance constituted her first public playing since she left. Jones, in her first solo recital, reader, utilized the usual tension of a pupil's recital by giving the Dream scene from "Bellini" and "The Young Man Waited," which entertained greatly the audience that filled the Morosco Hall.

Griff Roberts, a young tenor, opened the programme with "For You Alone," followed by May Volk, mezzo-soprano, in "A Girl I Once Loved," O. J. French sang "My Birthday," in "The Woods;" Iva Smith, also soprano, "Caro Mio Ben," "The Bell" and "Lad of Mine."

One of the most promising pupils of Mr. Jones is Fred Johnson, a young man of 15, tall and attractive, and possessed of a partitive voice of good quality and pleasing tone. He sang three numbers, "Banjo Song," "Wherever You Walk," and "Huhn's Invictus," in a fourth selection, as he was very much affected by his first public appearance, with his initial song, less so with the second and interpreted "In the Woods" with great credit.

Thomas sang "Since We Parted," "The Lark Now Leaves His Watery Nest," and the lights took flight sympathetically with the lark.

The causes that make a fable neck make a double chin; tight collars break down the muscles supporting the flesh. Discolorations are due to the same cause, for the constant friction of the collar restricts the carriage of the head and causes it to turn, first yellow, and then dark brown. The high, tight collar restricts the carriage of the head and this causes wrinkles. Now, let us consider what we can do to get rid of these unfortunate defects.

CORRECT POSITION OF HEAD.

Place your dressing table in a hand mirror and with the use of a hand mirror examine your neck carefully, on the sides, and behind. Note where the lines are the most conspicuous and make a mark with a pencil by holding the head in a wrong position.

Study the position of the head that makes the fewest lines and practice keeping the head in that position.

TREATMENT OF THE NECK.

The second step is to treat the skin of the neck. Clean the skin with cold cream and then bathe with hot water until the skin is warm and pink. Next massage with a good skin food, according to directions I shall give you, follow by bathing the neck with very cold water.

Ruth Brohm was heard in "Zusammen," "Alilah" and other mezzo-soprano selections. Raymond Miles, tenor, sang four selections from Carmen's Indian lyrics by Wigwam to Tepe, accompanied by Miss Arthur Kendall.

Peyke Recital.

To inaugurate her return home Miss Frieda Peyke introduced new songs from the Cowles' "Circus Parade."

Just as Sweet GRADUATES THE ONLY POSIES.

Flowers Taboo at the High School Exercises.

Music Proves an Inspiration of Delight.

Large Class and Scholarly Orations.

With shafts of sunlight falling on bright heads like a good omen for a happy future, with all flowers taboo save simple bunches of white sweet peas, but with blossoms of youth and beauty and hope flowering everywhere, the 225 sweet girl and brave boy graduates of Los Angeles High School gave Temple Auditorium stage the very prettiest setting it ever had, yesterday morning. Not all the art of Pavlova or a Mary Garden could match the charm of that array of youth. The girls, in their modest white dresses, with their hair done simply, carrying their bunches of white-ribbed sweet peas, formed a picture of pictures and formed a most attractive background for the actors in the little educational drama or orations. The musical and bestowal of diplomas was also simple.

The musical numbers were given by the students themselves, and the young girls sang "Spring Morning" and Schumann's "Moonlight" by three graceful girls, Florence E. Lyle, Alice P. Glasscock and Selma Zahl, accompanied by Hans Dauchene, Dorothy Keeler, and J. Shoemaker, on violin, cello and piano. Most delightful also were the selections from "Hansel and Gretel," "The Moonlight," and "The Snow Maiden," and other numbers by the senior A chorus. But when the big organ, under the hand of Miss Mary E. Hayes, accompanied by the orchestra, sounded forth the "Hansel and Gretel" theme, the hundred of fresh young voices joined in the inspiring song, and onlookers felt indeed that youth was having its hour.

Programme Full of Ginger and Snap.

Annual vocal procession of the school found its way to Manual
High School stage last night. Anyhow, these hundred pretty Poly girls looked like, in their simple white gowns when their bouquets of brilliant flowers were dipped and swayed in the fragrant incense.

Five tiers of them
surrounded as in a frame
the tiny, wavy-haired boys of Poly's big singing class.

Programme was characterised by ginger and snap which almost interlocked with the Polytechnic's affairs interested and natural.

One of the members of a Japanese dancing colony, hardly a hundred yards from the scene of the tragedy, was put out in his boat from the water saw the strange automobile.

Sculling in he beheld the dead and summoned the police. Dr. Weldon attended Mr. Townsend and the body was sent to the Booth

Goodrich undertaking parlor.

When Mr. Townsend was asked if there were any relatives he wished to see he smiled wanly and said:

"I guess there are not many left."

SAD SURPRISE.

Later when the bodies were identified a friend of Miss Kramer's family buried her in her house. Miss Kramer had remained at the telephone office where she was employed until 10 o'clock, an hour and a half after the time appointed for the "surprise."

FORMER MRS. STANDARD AND NEW HUSBAND READY TO MOVE AGAIN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, June 25.—Mrs. Jessie Standard Whittaker, former wife of Earl Standard, Pomona bank director, now serving a ten-year term on MacNeil's Island, who, following the sensation caused by her marriage at Yuma, Ariz., to Fred Whittaker, dropped completely from sight, was discovered today living at a B-street apartment house in this city.

The fact that the marriage, which was celebrated just two weeks after she was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Standard, took place in Arizona instead of California, where she would have been obliged to file for a divorce, was the secret.

"How was that water?" they were asked, and replied, "The water's fine."

This was the start. That night orders were sent down from the hotel desk calling for him. It is the thing every day to go down to the pool for a swim. The three miles, it is said, is nothing compared with such a delight at the end of the journey.

MUST WAIT FOR THEIR PAY.

The Pasadena Board of Education is at an impasse financially, and it is unable to pay the teachers of the district for their last month's services except on the installment plan. It was announced yesterday that the following month's pay will be held.

A portion of the amount due each teacher will be paid July 1, with the balance in October.

The fund, it is agreed, will be used to meet the expenses of the school year, and it will be counted on when making its budget. However, none of the teachers deserted their posts.

ARE DISSATISFIED.

Though the City Commission has not as yet announced its decision as to the outcome of the recent investigation of the gas desertion of the Taxpayers Protective Association, at whose request the inquiry was made, yesterday issued a public statement in the form of a report of a committee of the organization in large.

In the report many dissatisfaction is found with the manner in which the investigation was carried on. It reads in part:

"We predicted a whitewash, which

PIONEER WEEK CARNIVAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ANAHIMEL, June 25.—Arrangements have been made by the members of the Chamber of Commerce of this city to hold a carnival, to be known as "Pioneer Week," early in September. The founding of the Mother Colony will be the basis of the celebration and it is proposed that the scenes, trials and hardships undergone by the sturdy hand of the pioneer will be depicted in the street fair, which will be one of the features of the festal week. Neither expense nor time will be spared in making this one of the most attractive demonstrations ever held in Orange county.

The board announced some time ago that it would probably be unable to meet its obligations to the teachers at the end of the school year, owing to the finding of a new tax which it had counted on when making its budget. However, none of the teachers deserted their posts.

WOMAN WANTS TO HELP OTHERS

FOR UNIFORMITY
IN PORT CHARGES.PACIFIC COAST AUTHORITIES URGE STANDARDIZATION IN ALL SEAGOARD CITIES.(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SEATTLE, June 25.—Representatives of the principal ports on the Pacific Coast who have been in conference here completed their work today with the perfecting of a permanent organization to be known as the Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities. The conference adopted resolutions urging uniformity in port charges in all cities on the Coast. San Francisco was selected for next year's meeting, and the following officers were elected:

President, Gen. H. M. Chittenden, Seattle; first vice-president, J. H. McCullum, San Francisco; second vice-president, C. E. Remington, Seattle; third vice-president, S. McClay, Vancouver, B. C.; fourth vice-president, F. V. Murkey, Portland; fifth vice-president, C. M. Gordon, Los Angeles; secretary, Leo V. Marie, San Francisco.

JUDGE'S LIFE THREATENED.

San Francisco Jurist Receives Letters Written to Influence Him in Shorb Divorce Case.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Sourious threatening letters, signed with a skull and crossbones, have been received by Judge John J. Van Nostrand of the Superior Court, written in an attempt to influence his conduct on the shorb divorce case now before him.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McM. Shorb are socially prominent in San Francisco, who brought suit, alleging that he had threatened her life, which caused her to leave him.

Shorb, it was learned, also had received intimidating letters. Indirect references to individuals made by initials, Lee Short, a county court judge, believed the letters had been written by some person associated with a private detective formerly active in the graft prosecutions of 1913 and a disbarred lawyer.

The letter was turned over to postal inspectors.

Contest.

BEST GARDENS
TO GET PRIZES.

BEAUTIFY ALL CALIFORNIA IS AIM OF LOS ANGELES.

City's Chamber of Commerce Will Offer Large Money Rewards to the Students of the Schools and Colleges in the State for Their Efforts. Home Gardens Also Urged.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SACRAMENTO, June 25.—To beautify all of California before the world's fair in San Francisco, is the incentive which has prompted the 1915 General Committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to offer large money prizes for the best gardens planted and maintained by the schools of the State. Every city in the State is eligible to participate in a series of garden contests, where the prizes range from $400 to $150.

The plan presented to Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt today, provides for the districting of the elementary schools, eight in a district. The prizes for each district will range from $400 to $150. Similar contests will be held for the intermediate schools, also special schools and colleges.

Home gardens are urged on students at wide ranges with visit every school in the State which proposes to enter the contest. The southern committee has urged Hyatt, to ask the teachers of the various schools to furnish the names of wide-awake children, the word being the plan may commence immediately.

DRUNKARD CAMPAIGNERS.

Prohibition Party in Oregon Will Use Slave Dialects as Part of Its Political武器.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PORTLAND (Or.), June 25.—At a State conference of prohibition party leaders, which began a three-day session here today, plans were laid for the beginning of the campaign to put Oregon to the November elections. This is the first of the parties in Oregon to get the political machinery under way.

One plan is to enlist the services of the press to spread the propaganda of the dry cause.

Committees will endeavor to get every denizen of slums, who blames god for his downfall, to become a campaign worker. A house-to-house canvass will be carried on throughout the State to obtain the women's vote.

MISSING SPOUSE
AN ANGELENO.

MRS. SHELTON OF THIS CITY SENDS DESCRIPTION TO COAST CITIES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
TACOMA, June 25.—Mrs. J. A. Shelton of Los Angeles has written to officials of the First Baptist churches and to the police of Tacoma and Seattle requesting their aid in locating her missing husband, whom she believes to be in the Puget Sound area.

She writes that he is fond of reading-rooms, chambers of commerce, ranches and parks, and is given to taking long walks. He is 45 years old, five feet seven inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, of medium complexion, has dark brown hair, which is getting thin, one gold tooth in front, and is smooth-shaven. He wore a gray suit when he left home, a light gray hat, and black shoes.

The man, she says, has been suffering from a nervous breakdown. He was last seen missing from his home at No. 1343 Crown Hill Avenue, Los Angeles, April 26. Mrs. Shelton, 45, is the widow of the same charge.

The Public Service.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The City Attorney issued a statement yesterday as to the policy to be pursued on behalf of the city in the handling of the gas-rate question in court. The Council today will discuss details regarding the engagement of Chief Engineer Mulholland of the aqueduct to superintend making a revaluation of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation's properties.

President Lowe of the Economic Gas Company has prepared a draft of an ordinance regulating the bonuses which gas and electric companies may offer and give to patrons. He will ask the City Council for a hearing either today or tomorrow.

The Park Commission issued a statement yesterday, in which it sets forth that it is not opposed to the erection of a Greek theater in Griffith Park, but believes that unless it has supervision thereof comprehensive plans for park beautification might be hampered and a bad precedent would be set.

An affidavit was filed with the secretary of the Police Commission yesterday, charging that the Gyle Cafe at No. 851 South Spring street is a hangout for girls to meet men and make appointments with them.

A question tending to show that certain supreme officers of the Loyal Order of Moose hold an interest in a Pittsburgh fire alarm system started something in the trial of the "outlaws" in the famous furniture suit before Judge Wellborn yesterday. The court would not go into the merits of the fire-alarm fight in this city.

CITY'S POLICY ON GAS SUITS.

WOULD RESIST EVERY ATTACK ON RATES AS FIXED.

Proposes to Get as Much Natural Gas Distributed as Possible, First for Domestic Consumption, Then for Industrial Purposes—Revaluation of Investments.

The City Council is to take up the details tomorrow to the plan whereby it proposes to place Chief Engineer Mulholland of the aqueduct in charge of the revaluation of the properties of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, for the purpose of resisting suits that are filed or may be filed to overturn the gas rates as set by the City Council.

City Attorney Stephens yesterday issued the following statement of policy in the handling of these cases:

I have been asked by many as to what course this office will pursue in handling the gas-rate question in court. It is decided that the public may have an understanding, not only as to my ideas, but as to the law. I make the following brief statement:

Only one case has been brought, and that by the Southern California Gas Company. Gas Expert Kelly's report makes it difficult in this case to resist a temporary restraining order, but I do not say that it is impossible.

The real fight will occur if the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation contests the rate, which will by no means be certain until after that company either voluntarily, or by order of a authority, such as the Railroad Commission, begins selling natural gas. It is my opinion that that company feels quite comfortable so long as conditions permit it to distribute manufactured gas to the amount of above $6 per cent of the entire gas consumption of the city at a certain point.

If this company does begin suit its first move will be to ask the court to suspend the 40-cent rate until the trial is had. This motion will be based upon affidavits calculated to show that the company is an unreasonable and contumacious party. I shall resist this with affidavits, if possible, but considering the only figures available will be those of the Board of Public Utilities, and according to the board's figures, justify a rate no lower than 52 cents. It is planned to see that I must get my assistance, if any, from other sources. This was the occasion for the Council's employing Mr. Kelly. His conclusions however, should not be confused with what may happen after a preliminary survey of the Los Angeles Gas Company's investment.

If a temporary order should be granted in the Los Angeles Gas Company's case, the Council probably requires that a temporary rate be agreed upon and the difference between such agreed rate and 40 cents would be imputed until final determination of the matter. Any such temporary rate would be determined by the Council. The court could and might in this case, instead of imputing the difference require the filing of an indemnity bond. My policy in the gas question is and will be to resist.

Every effort to get natural gas distributed, and much as possible; first to domestic consumers, then for industrial consumption.

Resist every attack on the legal rates as fixed by the Council by revaluing the costs of production and cost of distribution, and I am highly pleased that Mr. Mulholland will undertake the task of supervising such revaluation.

CHECK ON BONUSES, LOWE PROPOSES LEGISLATION.

L. F. Lowe, president of the Economic Gas Company, has prepared a draft of a proposed ordinance that has for its purpose the regulation of bonuses from gas and electric companies to patrons. This will be presented to the City Council this morning, and Lowe will ask for a hearing at a conference either today or tomorrow.

The proposed ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful for any gas company to furnish or any patron to receive, either directly or indirectly, any favor, gift, privilege, benefit, advantage, concession, material, labor, agreement or understanding, not publicly offered or granted to all customers. It also provides that the companies, within ten days after the passage of the ordinance, shall publish in writing with the Board of Public Utilities, the privileges made or offered to all customers, wherever situated, and that no further such privileges shall be made or offered until after the companies shall have first filed with the board a statement of each additional privilege proposed to be offered and made to customers.

CHARGES MISCONDUCT. IRELAND MAKES AFFIDAVIT.

W. F. Ireland filed with the secretary of the Police Commission yesterday an affidavit, in which he sets forth the results of investigation made by himself and three others as to vice conditions in Los Angeles.

The affidavit charges that the party visited Gyle's Cafe, No. 851 South Spring street, which is a No. 1 class restaurant house, permit that he had been previously informed that girls made this cafe their place for meeting men, and that when he asked for a certain girl he was informed by a waiter that the girl was engaged, and that others were available; that the waiter conducted these men to a balcony where there were boxes back of curtains and then brought girls there and introduced them to the men; that the girls insisted after being asked to stay in the cafe, that the men should accompany them to a hotel; that all this took place in the presence of the proprietor of the cafe and his wife, who later on police officers found in the cafe talking with a waiter, and then the waiter told the party that everything was all right, and the officer would not bother them; that if they did take the girl he would turn them loose in the dance saloon.

The affidavit will be before the Police Commission at its next meeting, and doubtless Gyle will be cited.

West Cross-Town Line.

Councilmen Roberts and Wheeler will speak at a meeting of the Glen-Altia Improvement Association to be held this evening at the North Pritchard-street schoolhouse on the subject of securing a cross-town car line from the intersection of North Pritchard street and North Hill to Schuetzen Park, Herman and Bairdstown. The Rose Hill, Bairdstown, Malabar and Herman improvement associations will participate in this meeting.

Park Commission's Statement.

Contending that the policy proposed in regard to the special commission to handle the erection and management of the Greek Theater in Griffith Park, but that the policy of having special commissioners appointed to take charge of such sites to the present time only interferes with the working out of comprehensive plans for park beautification unless the Park Commission is given general supervising of such

The commission declares that it is not opposed to the construction of the proposed theater in Griffith Park, but that the policy of having special commissioners appointed to take charge of such sites to the present time only interferes with the working out of comprehensive plans for park beautification unless the Park Commission is given general supervising of such

The attitude of the Park Commission is that the proposed observatory should be erected at some other point than on Mt. Hollywood. It declares that the Council will rescind the ordinance providing for the special commission, thus leaving with the Park Commission the general supervising authority, it will be willing to have the special commission go ahead with the construction work.

"OUTLAW" MOOSE CAST A SHOT.

FIRE-ALARM QUESTION COMES AS A SURPRISE.

Query, Apparently Aimless, Raises Hubbub During Trial—Judge Declares Action of Lodgement Taking Oaths Not to divulge Information Which Conflicts With Public Duties.

The "outlaw" Moose threw a litigant shot into the camp of the "regulars" during the trial of the now-celebrated furniture suit before Judge Wellborn yesterday, by an apparently aimless little question. It was simply whether or not J. W. Davis, general director of organization, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, and other supreme officers, were interested in a fire alarm system to the city. The question appeared to take the regulars by surprise. It was unexpected and apparently irrelevant, but when the hubbub was at its warmest Judge Wellborn ordered the case to stand.

The "outlaw" only partly showed their hand in asking the question. Because, as they allege, Mr. Davis and other supreme officers have some interest in a fire alarm system, they endeavored to connect their interest with the upholders of old Lodge No. 286, of which Banks Cregier is a member.

Mr. Cregier is the inventor of the Cregier fire alarm system, which is especially popular in this city. He did not get a toehold in Los Angeles without a hard fight with a competitor, which had the monopoly. The alleged animus back of the outlaws' action of the regulars is the outlaws, which carried with it the whisper that the scapler as Director from Mr. Cregier's hand, will be traced back to him to attend to matters in San Francisco, returning on notice.

LABEL ALLEGED.

"POEM" CAUSES SUIT.

There have been many angles of the litigation involving the Merchants and Insurers' Reporting Company and Joshua E. Youts, its former secretary, but the latest are two suits "based on a poem" alleged to have been written by Joseph Mitchell, an attorney, printed in the San Francisco and Investment News under date of June 25, 1912.

The suit, alleging libel, and collectively alleging $50,000 damages, was filed by Mr. Mitchell, Garner, Currier & Co., San Francisco, and J. F. Robertson, the last three being editors and publishers of the News, was filed yesterday by Mr. Youts and Miss Phoebe A. Parker, formerly of San Francisco, against the City Clerk and that his action was not binding upon the city.

WORTH MILLIONS.

SUBMERGED LANDS INVOLVED.

The suit originally started by the heirs of Juan and Loreto Sepulveda to quiet title to the submerged lands on the west side of the Willows Ranch, approximately 100 acres and valued all the way from $1,000,000 to $14,000,000, will be prosecuted in Judge Myers' court today by Edmund Burke, intervenor, against the city. Mr. Burke is the attorney for the defendants besides the city, the Banking Company, Salt Lake Railway, Pacific Electric, Kerckhoff-Cuzner Lumber Company, George H. Pack, Elkhorn Land Company, Saline Valley Company, and the Surveyor-General of the State, all of whom claimed an interest in the land. The action has been practically dismissed as to these other defendants.

"To Plaintiff is devoted of her sex. My son is tyrist, to whose strong arm I owe immunity from many a blow." Representing a soliloquy by Mr. Youts and dedicated to him, Miss Parker takes exception to the implied reference to herself.

McCorrinn's court yesterday after the completion of the testimony for the plaintiff.

The main point in the argument was that the operation of the auditorium was not a proprietary function, but that while the city had the right to construct the auditorium, it had no right to construct it upon public lands. In doing so the city would be amiss, as the city cannot be responsible for the tragedy. The other side will argue against this today, holding that the city exercised a proprietary function and is responsible for damages.

On the day the court sustained the objection of the defense to the introduction of books showing the purpose for which the auditorium was built. The defense showed that the materials from which it was constructed were obtained from the city.
